U.S. Army Air Force

Commemorative

Fourth in the Series

August 17, 1943 marked the beginning of wartime air-dominance for the United States, now thrust into World War II. Strategic bombing, later enhanced by the escort of long-range fighters, proved effective and deadly. The Eighth Air Force hammered the Nazi fighters and ball bearing plants of Germany, until the complete surrender of German forces on May 7, 1945.

Bomber crews and fighter pilots lived with the dread certainty that with each mission, many would not return. They depended on skill and equipment for survival. Standard issue always included a knife designed for the unexpected - a knife hand-crafted by the master cutlers of Camillus Cutlery.

Camillus built millions of knives for American servicemen in World War II, and our World War II Commemorative Series (begun in 1990) recalls those fighting knives and celebrates the dedication, valor and sacrifice of America's servicemen.
